PROFILE

Visual designer from Buenos Aires, currently at DEPT® designing for Google. Over ten years moving from editorial and brand work to large-scale campaigns and digital experiences for global brands — Google, Netflix, Chevrolet.

Experience across design, communication and team management. I build visual systems with a point of view: bold compositions, clear typography and images that people actually want to look at. Off-screen: video games, a wide range of films and too many rewatches of The Office.
